

BELMONT UNIVERSITY

September 10, 2003

To Whom It May Concern:

I am pleased to write this letter to tell you what a pleasure it was working with Hardaway Construction Company on Belmont University's new Student Life Center complex. Everyone from the President down is so pleased with the building, and as the administrator responsible for facilities, I was especially happy with the project management team on the job. The synergy between Hardaway's management and superintendents, the architect and the Belmont staff was excellent. We were always informed on the job's progress. Our director of facilities and I were always welcome on the job site and were invited to attend all the weekly construction meetings. As owner's representatives, this open door policy was greatly appreciated.

This project had great potential for disruption to a hectic campus life, but the Hardaway team did not allow that to happen. They took great care of our safety and of our school schedule.

We look forward to many years of satisfaction in this new facility. Hardaway Construction had a great impact on the face and the future of Belmont University.

Very truly yours,

Steven T. Lasley
Vice President of Finance and Operations
